

2017

Arcanum Architecture, Inc.
+ Woodlane Properties

SPEC HOME
DESIGN

SPEC HOMES OFFER designers and developers the opportunity to dream. And dreamy is the perfect description for the Tuscaloosa Residence in Atherton, created by Arcanum Architecture in partnership with Woodlane Properties. "We wanted to design a large estate that was broken down to a family-oriented scale and embraced the indoor/outdoor California lifestyle," says Timothy Chappelle, principal of Arcanum Architecture.

Located on two acres in Silicon Valley, the seven-bedroom home offers continuous exposure to the outdoors with stunning views of the property, which includes a 50-foot-long swimming pool and pool house. The large-scale, limestone-clad home, which is designed in the quintessential California Agrarian style, is broken up in order to create more intimate spaces and make the overall appeal more approachable. "It was rewarding for us to design a residence of this size and create something in keeping with the casual California lifestyle," says Timothy Chappelle. —Lindsey Shook

OPPOSITE PAGE: AN INTIMATE OUTDOOR LOUNGE AREA. THIS PAGE, TOP: A NIGHT VIEW OF THE HOME'S ENTRANCE, SHOWCASING THE AGRARIAN DETAILS. BOTTOM: THE COMPOUND FEATURES VARIED AREAS FOR ENTERTAINING.

PHOTO: BERNARD ANDREW PHOTOGRAPHY

